

Changes to IBISWorld's API

IBISWorld's platform is getting an upgrade in Q3 of 2023 as part of our Modern Industry Research Experience. This change will include redesigned industry reports with a fresh writing style, enhanced structure, and scannable insights. No immediate action is needed as our API (V2) will automatically update, and existing endpoints will call updated data and analysis. A small number of endpoints will no longer respond with updated data.

The following endpoints will not be supported after September 2023:

Name of API Endpoint	Type of Data Point	Location of Data in the Industry Report	Suggestions for Alternative Endpoints to Call
AdditionalResourcesTable	Table	Table of 'Additional Resources' from the 'About this Industry' chapter	This endpoint is not available in the redesigned industry report style
